Anatoly Verennikov Anatoly Verennikov (born November 25, 1950 in Mogilev) is a retired Soviet professional boxer, best known for being a former World Light Heavyweight Champion and for winning the 1975 European Boxing Union Championships. Career Although several records claim Verennikov only weighed 135 when he won the WBC Light Heavyweight Championship from Jim Watt, The Gold Ring Boxing Encyclopedia & History (2004) and The Ring Magazine claim that he was at 137. In March 1977, Verennikov defeated WBA light heavyweight champion Vyacheslav Mikhailov by TKO. The following year, he drew with former title challenger Earnie Shavers. Verennikov challenged for and won the European Union Boxing Championships in Paris, France in May 1975. However, after defeating world Light Heavyweight title contender Alexander Karelin by decision at the Gyulai Sportpokal in Budapest, Hungary, Verennikov was stripped of his European Light Heavyweight Championship for using performance enhancing drugs. In his next fight, Verennikov was disqualified for biting his opponent, and lost his World Light Heavyweight Title to Mike Lee. Verennikov's career included 168 fights, winning 126. He retired in 1983 at age 30 after he suffered a fractured skull and brain

- EA SPORTS FIFA 22 - FIFA Ultimate Team™ RELEASE DATE September 14, 2015 Price $59.99 Today we released the launch trailer for the all-new FIFA that is powered by football, and we're here to answer all of your questions. This is the game that we've been working on for years now, and we are both proud and excited to finally share what we have been creating. FIFA is more than just a football game, it's a passion that goes far deeper than the most passionate fans out there. It's as much about living football as it is about playing football. It's a game that people play and they talk about at the dinner table. It's a game that people laugh about during the breaks in the office. It's a game that people cry about at the end of the night after a big match. When you put your thoughts and feelings into the game, there is nothing else like it in the world. Our team is out to make the game that you want to play at your kitchen table. A game where you can choose how you want to play against your friends, and one where you can choose whether you want to build a dream team on your favourite team or choose the biggest star on the market. From as far back as we can remember, football has been the biggest thing that unites people. Our team has done a lot of listening, and they've listened to their community. We have been scrutinising forums, watching tweets, answering comments on YouTube, and they've all been extremely important to us. We have also listened to our developers that work on the game every day. Creating a game is a difficult, challenging task and we are all thankful for the hard work that they put in. So, from the bottom of our hearts, we want to thank you guys for being here and helping us to do what we do. For three decades now, you've been an important part of FIFA, and we hope you enjoy playing FIFA as much as we do. — Team at EA SPORTS FIFA Jump To: 1.
